“I want to train my people on a regular basis but don’t know how” – Ranjit, the builder developpe said

“Check out Entrepreneur Academy & Centre of Excellence” –said Jagdish, his friend

If you are a

- a corporate who wants to outsource the training department
- a business group that cannot afford to have a dedicated team for coaching and training for their employees on a regular basis
- business owner wanting to train your middle and senior managers on a regular basis then call up sushmita on 9867027226 NOW and fix up an appointment with the lead consultant to draw up an annual plan for you in line with your business vision and goals.

...not more than 10 people a batch – 8 selective modules in all - the model followed is an intensive coaching and training model and participants are handpicked after an interview process for certain modules

About lead consultant:

With over 15 years of business experience, and having helped various businesses grow exponentially over the last few years, this ex-citigroup consultant, is known for his ability to setup businesses for growth around the business's vision and goals, a unique model that he has developed over the last decade. A combination of high end business concepts , Management concepts and the practical wisdom to apply it to day to day business life in the right order and proportion makes his style unique and effective. Known as a guru among his clients and circles, his quest to reach out and bring out the unique potential in people has led to the entrepreneur's academy and Centre of Excellence model. He believes training alone cannot deliver what coaching can. Though popular in his own way, he is a person who shies away from recognition and social adulation. He believes that we are here to DO and we just DO- what's all this praise about. Hence he is difficult to trace over the social networks and business networks - though he has been responsible in spearheading the world's largest business referral network in India. A man of depth who talks straight to the point, a man to learn from, he is Sashi Menon. He will himself conduct most of the major modules. He likes to handpick the people for specific modules.

...so pick up the mobile and call 9867027226 and fix up an appointment.
